ITEM 4 – SERVICES, FEES & COMPENSATION

This Disclosure document is being offered to you by Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. (“Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc.” or “Firm”) about the investment advisory services we provide. It discloses information about our services and the way those services are made available to you, the client.

We offer a wrap fee program as described in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure. A wrap fee program is generally considered any arrangement under which clients receive investment advisory services and the execution of client transactions for a specified fee or fees not based upon transactions in their accounts. All our investment management clients will be offered the wrap fee program structure that includes, as a single fee, the securities transaction costs for trading in Client accounts along with the investment advisory fees earned by our firm. Our firm receives a portion of the wrap fee for the services rendered. While traditional Wrap Fee Programs are often rigid, pre-packaged investment programs, our firm customizes its investment strategies individually for its Clients. Prior to receiving services through the Program, clients are required to enter into a written agreement with our firm setting forth the relevant terms and conditions of the investment advisory relationship (the “Agreement”).

INVESTMENT AND WEALTH MANAGEMENT AND SUPERVISION SERVICES

We manage advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. For discretionary accounts, once we have determined a profile and investment plan with a client, we will execute the day-to-day transactions without seeking prior client consent but within the expected investment guidelines. We may accept accounts with certain restrictions, if circumstances warrant. We primarily allocate client assets among cash, individual stocks, bonds, exchange traded funds (“ETFs”), structured notes, CDs, equities, corporate bonds, municipal bonds, and U.S. Government Treasuries in accordance with their stated investment objectives, and mutual funds. When appropriate, we recommend Private Fund investments to certain suitable clients. We generally invest Client’s cash balances in money market funds, FDIC Insured Certificates of Deposit, high-grade commercial paper and/or government backed debt instruments. Ultimately, we try to achieve the highest return on our client’s cash balances through relatively low-risk and conservative investments. In most cases, at least a partial cash balance will be maintained in a money market account so that our firm may debit advisory fees for our services related to this service.

Portfolios will be designed to meet a particular investment goal, determined to be suitable to the client’s circumstances. Once the appropriate portfolio has been determined, portfolios are continuously and regularly monitored, and if necessary, rebalanced based upon the client’s individual needs, stated goals and objectives.

During personal discussions with clients, we determine the client’s objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review a client’s prior investment history, as well as family composition and background. Based on client needs, we develop a client’s personal profile and investment plan. We then create and manage the client’s investments based on that policy and plan. It is the client’s obligation to notify us immediately if circumstances have changed with respect to their goals.

Once we have determined the types of investments to be included in a client’s portfolio and have allocated the assets, we provide ongoing investment review and management services.

With our discretionary relationship, we will make changes to the portfolio, as we deem appropriate, to meet client financial objectives. We trade these portfolios based on the combination of our market views and client objectives, using our investment process. We tailor our advisory services to meet the needs of our clients and seek to ensure that your portfolio is managed in a manner consistent with those needs and objectives. Clients have the ability to leave standing instructions with us to refrain from investing in particular industries or invest in limited amounts of securities.

We do have limited authority to direct the Custodian to deduct our investment advisory fees from your accounts, but only with the appropriate written authorization from clients.

Where appropriate, we provide advice about any type of legacy position held in client portfolios. Typically, these are assets that are ineligible to be custodied at our primary custodian. Clients will engage us to advise on certain investment products that are not maintained at their primary custodian, such as variable life insurance, annuity contracts, and assets held in employer sponsored retirement plans and qualified tuition plans (i.e., 529 plans).

You are advised and are expected to understand that our past performance is not a guarantee of future results. Certain market and economic risks exist that adversely affect an account's performance. This could result in capital losses in your account.

Use of Alternative Investments

Alternative Investments represent asset classes outside the realm of traditional stocks, bonds, mutual funds, ETFs and cash equivalents and include, among other things, private equity, venture capital, and funds of private funds. Where determined suitable for a client, Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. will utilize or otherwise recommend alternative investments.

THIRD PARTY MONEY MANAGERS ("TPMM")

Our firm utilizes the services of a TPMM for the management of client accounts. Investment advice and trading of securities will only be offered by or through the chosen TPMM. Our firm will not offer advice on any specific securities or other investments in connection with this service. Prior to referring clients, our firm will provide initial due diligence on third party money managers and ongoing reviews of their management of client accounts. In order to assist in the selection of a TPMM, our firm will gather client information pertaining to financial situation, investment objectives, and reasonable restrictions to be imposed upon the management of the account.

Our firm will periodically review third party money manager reports provided to the client at least annually. Our firm will contact clients from time to time in order to review their financial situation and objectives; communicate information to third party money managers as warranted; and, assist the client in understanding and evaluating the services provided by the TPMM. Clients will be expected to notify our firm of any changes in their financial situation, investment objectives, or account restrictions that could affect their financial standing.

DISCLOSURE REGARDING ROLLOVER RECOMMENDATIONS

A client or prospect leaving an employer typically has four options regarding an existing retirement plan (and may engage in a combination of these options): (i) leave the money in the former employer's plan, if permitted, (ii) roll over the assets to the new employer's plan, if one is available and rollovers are permitted, (iii) rollover to an Individual Retirement Account ("IRA"), or (iv) cash out the account value (which could, depending upon the client's age, result in adverse tax consequences). Our Firm may recommend an investor roll over plan assets to an IRA for which our Firm provides investment advisory services. As a result, our Firm and its representatives may earn an asset-based fee. In contrast, a recommendation that a client or prospective client leave their plan assets with their previous employer or roll over the assets to a plan sponsored by a new employer will generally result in no compensation to our Firm. Our Firm therefore has an economic incentive to encourage a client to roll plan assets into an IRA that our Firm will manage, which presents a conflict of interest. To mitigate the conflict of interest, there are various factors that our Firm will consider before recommending a rollover, including but not limited to: (i) the investment options available in the plan versus the investment options available in an IRA, (ii) fees and expenses in the plan versus the fees and expenses in an IRA, (iii) the services and responsiveness of the plan's investment professionals versus those of our Firm, (iv) protection of assets from creditors and legal judgments, (v) required minimum distributions and age considerations, and (vi) employer stock tax consequences, if any. All rollover recommendations are reviewed by our Firm's Chief Compliance Officer and remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client has regarding the oversight.

We are fiduciaries under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and when we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are also fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. We have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests.

WRAP FEE PROGRAM

Price Financial is the sponsor and manager of Wrap Program (the "Program"), a wrap fee program (i.e., an arrangement where brokerage commissions and transaction costs are absorbed by the Firm). The fee covers transaction costs or commissions resulting from the management of your accounts, however, most investments trade without transaction fees today, so our payment of these and other incidental custodial related expenses should not be considered a significant factor in determining the relative value of our wrap program. Participants in the Program may pay a higher aggregate fee than if brokerage services are purchased separately. Additional information about the Program is available in Price Financial's Wrap Brochure, which appears as Part 2A Appendix 1 of the Firm's Form ADV.

Periods of Inactivity

Price Financial has a fiduciary duty to provide services consistent with the client's best interest. As part of its investment advisory services, Price Financial will review client portfolios on an ongoing basis to determine if any changes are necessary based upon various factors, including, but not limited to, investment performance, fund manager tenure, style drift, and/or a change in the client's investment objective. Based upon these factors, there may be extended periods of time when Price Financial determines that changes to a client's portfolio are neither necessary nor prudent. Of course, as indicated below, there can be no assurance that investment decisions made by Price Financial will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s). Clients nonetheless remain subject to the fees described in Item 5 below during periods of account inactivity.

RELATIVE COST OF THE PROGRAM

A wrap fee program allows our clients to pay a specified fee for investment advisory services and the execution of transactions. Clients do not pay brokerage commissions, markups or transaction charges for execution of transactions in addition to the advisory fee however, most investments trade without transaction fees today, so our payment of these and other incidental custodial related expenses should not be considered a significant factor in determining the relative value of our wrap program.

Although neither Client nor our Firm pay a transaction charge for transactions in the account(s), Client should be aware that our Firm pays the Custodian and/or third-party platform program an annual administrative / asset-based pricing fee based upon a percentage of assets under management within the Wrap Fee Program account. Because our Firm pays an annual administration / asset-based pricing fee in lieu of paying transaction charges, there is a conflict of interest. Client understands that the cost to our Firm of the annual administration fee may be a factor that he/she considers when deciding how much of an annual advisory fee to assess to the account(s).

Our Firm charges a fee as compensation for providing Investment Management services on your account. These services include advisory services, trade entry, investment supervision, and other account maintenance activities. Our recommended Custodian charges transaction costs, custodial fees, redemption fees, retirement plan and administrative fees or commissions. See Additional Fees and Expenses below for details.

A calendar monthly investment management fee is billed in arrears based on the average daily balance of your account during the previous calendar month. Our maximum annual advisory fee is 1.65%. The relevant fee and billing method is defined and agreed to by the firm and the client in the executed Investment Advisory Agreement. This fee may be debited directly from your investment account, or you may pay this fee separately. You will need to indicate how you would like to pay this fee in your Investment Advisory Agreement. Additional fees and expenses you may incur are principal markups and discounts, SEC fees, mutual fund/ETF expense ratios, tax withholding on certain foreign securities, postage fees, wire fees, bank charges, and other administration fees as authorized by you. Please refer to Section 12 for information on brokerage fees and services.

Fees may vary based on the size of the account, complexity of the portfolio, extent of activity in the account, or other reasons agreed upon by our Firm and you as the client. In certain circumstances, our fees and the timing of the fee payments may be negotiated. Our employees and their family related accounts are charged a reduced fee for our services.

Unless otherwise instructed by the Client, we will aggregate related client accounts for the purposes of determining the account size and annualized fee. The common practice is often referred to as “house-holding” portfolios for fee purposes and may result in lower fees than if fees were calculated on portfolios separately. Our method of house-holding accounts for fee purposes looks at the overall family dynamic and relationship. When applicable, and noted in Appendix of the Investment Management Agreement, legacy positions will also be excluded from the fee calculation.

The independent and qualified custodian holding your funds and securities will debit your account directly for the advisory fee and pay that fee to us. When establishing a relationship with Price Financial Group Wealth Management, you provide written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account held by the qualified custodian. Further, the qualified Custodian agrees to deliver an account statement to you on a monthly basis indicating all the amounts deducted from the account including our advisory fees.

Either Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. or you may terminate the management agreement immediately upon written notice to the other party. The management fee will be pro-rated to the date of termination, for the month in which the cancellation notice was given and any earned fee will be billed to you by our Firm.

Upon termination, you are responsible for monitoring the securities in your account, and we will have no further obligation to act or advise with respect to those assets. In the event of client’s death or disability, Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. will continue management of the account until we are notified of client’s death or disability and given alternative instructions by an authorized party.

In no case are Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. fees based on, or related to, the performance of your funds or investments.

USE OF MODEL MANAGERS AND PLATFORM PROVIDER -AE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC (AEWM)

Through an administrative platform arrangement, we have contracted with AEWM to utilize its technology platforms to support data reconciliation, performance reporting, fee calculation and billing, client database maintenance, quarterly performance evaluations, payable reports, and other functions related to the administrative tasks of managing client accounts. Due to this arrangement, AEWM will have access to client information. Price Financial and AEWM are non-affiliated companies. AEWM receives a portion of our advisory fee for each account. AEWM will not serve as the discretionary investment advisor to our clients. Please note that the fee charged to the client will not increase due to the annual fee Price Financial pays to AEWM, the fee is paid from the portion of the management fee retained by our Firm.

For accounts where AEWM is engaged as a platform provider, clients' fees will be calculated and deducted from your account by AEWM with our portion of the overall fee paid directly by AEWM to our firm. Fees are billed monthly in arrears based on the average daily balance by the 5th business day of each month. Billing will begin after the account has trade activity or after two full monthly billing cycles, whichever is sooner.

Under our fee billing described above, only one rate is charged against all of the client's assets under management in this program. AEWM retains a portion of the advisory fee charged. For some "Model Managers", their fee is included in the portion retained directly by AEWM and others receive a fee separate in addition to the fee retained by AEWM. Our Firm does not adjust the overall Program fee depending on selected Model Managers.

The client will provide written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from the account held by the qualified custodian through AEWM. The qualified custodian agrees to deliver an account statement at least quarterly directly to the client indicating all the amounts deducted from the account including our advisory fees. Refer to Item 15 for details. Clients are encouraged to review your account statements for accuracy.

THIRD PARTY MONEY MANAGER ("TPMM") FEES

As discussed in Item 4 above, there are occasions where an independent TPMM acts as a sub-adviser to our firm. In those circumstances, the TPMM manages the assets based upon the parameters provided by our firm. Under such arrangements where our firm elects to utilize a TPMM, depending on the TPMM contract with Price Financial Group Wealth Management, the total advisory fee may be collected by the TPMM. This total fee includes our firm's portion of the investment advisory fee as well as the TPMM fee. Total fees for clients utilizing a TPMM will not exceed 1.65%.

The fee billed is defined in the relevant Investment Management Contract as well as in the individual Form ADV Filing of the respective Third Party Manager. This fee may be debited directly from your investment account or you may pay this fee separately. You will need to indicate how you would like to pay this fee in your investment management contract. Additional fees and expenses you may incur are principal markups and discounts, SEC fees, mutual fund/ETF expense ratios, mutual fund 12B-1 fees, tax withholding on certain foreign securities, postage fees, wire fees, bank charges, and other administration fees as authorized by you.

A TPMM relationship may be terminated at the IAR's discretion. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. may at any time terminate the relationship with a TPMM that manages your assets. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. will notify you of instances where we have terminated a relationship with any TPMM you are investing with. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. will not conduct on-going supervisory reviews of the TPMM following such termination. Factors involved in the termination of a TPMM may include a failure to adhere to their stated management style or your objectives, a material change in the professional staff of the TPMM, unexplained poor performance, unexplained inconsistency of account performance, or our decision to no longer include the TPMM on our list of approved TPMMs.

Account custodial services may be provided by several account Custodians depending on the investment management program offered. Programs may have higher or lower fees than other programs available through Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. or available elsewhere. Investment management programs may differ in the services provided and method or type of management offered, and each may have different account minimums. Client reports will depend upon the management program selected. Please see complete details in the program brochure and custodial account agreement for each program recommended and offered.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

We have contracted with an unaffiliated firm “Orion” to utilize their technology platform which supports data reconciliation, performance reporting, fee calculation, client relationship maintenance, at least quarterly performance evaluations, and other functions related to the administrative tasks of managing client accounts. Due to this arrangement, Orion will have access to client accounts, but Orion will not serve as an investment adviser to our clients. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. and Orion are non-affiliated companies. Orion charges our Firm an annual fee for each account administered by its software. Please note that the fee charged to the client will not increase due to the annual fee Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. pays to Orion through AE Wealth. The annual fee is paid from the portion of the management fee retained by Price Financial.

ADDITIONAL FEES AND EXPENSES:

In addition to the advisory fees paid to our Firm, you also incur certain charges imposed by other third parties, such as broker-dealers, trust companies, banks and other financial institutions (collectively “Financial Institutions”). These additional charges include charges imposed by a mutual fund or ETF in a client’s account, as disclosed in the fund’s prospectus (e.g., fund management fees and other fund expenses), deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Our brokerage practices are described at length in Item 12, below.

When selecting investments for our clients’ portfolios we might choose mutual funds on your account custodian’s Non-Transaction Fee (NTF) list. This means that your account custodian will not charge a transaction fee or commission associated with the purchase or sale of the mutual fund.

The mutual fund companies that choose to participate in your custodian’s NTF fund program pay a fee to be included in the NTF program. The fee that a mutual fund company pays to participate in the program is ultimately borne by the owners of the mutual fund including clients of our Firm. When we decide whether to choose a fund from your custodian’s NTF list or not, we consider our expected holding period of the fund, the position size and the expense ratio of the fund versus alternative funds. Depending on our analysis and future events, NTF funds might not always be in your best interest.

To facilitate the execution of trades, regulatory Trading Activity Fees (TAF) are added to applicable sales transactions. The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) regulatory fee is assessed on client accounts for sell transactions, and a FINRA fee is assessed on client accounts for sell transactions, for certain covered securities. This fee is not charged by our Firm but is accessed and collected by the custodian. The Custodian that our Firm uses, is a FINRA member firm. These fees recover the costs incurred by the SEC and FINRA, for supervising and regulating the securities markets and securities professionals. The fee rates vary depending on the type of transaction and the size of that transaction. For more information on the SEC and FINRA fees, please visit their websites: www.sec.gov/fast-answers/answerssec31htm.html or www.finra.org/industry/trading-activity-fee

ITEM 5 – ACCOUNT REQUIREMENTS AND TYPES OF CLIENTS

We provide investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, foundations, employer sponsored retirement plans, trusts and estates.

Our Firm maintains a $100,000 minimum in aggregate investable assets. In certain instances, at the discretion of our Firm, this minimum may be waived.

ITEM 6 – PORTFOLIO MANAGER SELECTION & EVALUATION

PORTFOLIO MANAGER SELECTION

Our Firm serves as the sponsor and portfolio manager for our Wrap Fee Program.

RELATED PERSONS

Our Firm's investment adviser representatives serve as the portfolio manager for the services under this Wrap Fee Program. We only manage this wrap fee program and we do not act as portfolio manager for any third-party wrap fee programs.

SUPERVISED PERSONS

Our investment adviser representatives serve as the portfolio manager for the Wrap Fee Program described in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure. Please refer to the Items 4 and 8 of the Part 2A Disclosure Brochure for details on the services provided by our Firm. For information related to the background of our supervised persons, please see Items 9 and 11 of the Part 2A Disclosure Brochure.

ADVISORY BUSINESS

Refer to Item 4 of this Wrap Fee Brochure for information about our wrap fee advisory program.

Each client has the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the portfolio. Restrictions on investments in certain securities or types of securities may not be possible due to the level of difficulty this would entail in managing the account.

PARTICIPATION IN WRAP FEE PROGRAMS

We offer the wrap fee program to clients who our Firm utilizes a third-party sub-adviser as well as those clients meeting the definition of a high net worth or individual. Our Wrap Fee Program is managed on an individualized basis according to the client's investment objectives, financial goals, risk tolerance, etc.

PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES & SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

We do not charge advisory fees on a share of the capital appreciation of the funds or securities in a client account (so-called performance-based fees), nor engage side by side management.

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

Price Financial utilizes investment strategies based upon target asset-class allocations to reflect information regarding the client's financial circumstances, expressed cash needs, risk tolerance, investment objectives, and other factors. The asset-class allocation programs designate specified percentages within multiple securities asset-classes with the intent of creating a diversified investment portfolio of no-load (no sales commission) or low-load mutual funds, ETFs, and other securities. The client can review, modify, and approve the recommended asset allocation program. We typically use the services of institutional money managers who employ proprietary methods of asset-class allocation based upon academic and behavioral economic research. Our other sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, and public filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. We look at the manager's experience and longevity, among other things.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. Each client executes a Risk Tolerance questionnaire that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy. We utilize a third party risk analysis platform (Riskalyze) whereby we can set the criteria for each client's risk tolerance and help align the client's risk profile with an appropriate portfolio. To develop a complete picture of a client's investment objectives, our investment adviser representatives work one-on-one with the advisory client through the initial and on-going planning process to create an investment plan which fits the client's risk tolerance and investment objectives. Based on this information, we obtain a broad understanding of the client's investment objectives, goals, and the amount of risk the client will tolerate. To further fine tune our understanding of a client's risk tolerance, our Firm does utilize Riskalyze, a third-party vendor tool to assist in identifying the client's risk tolerance.

Riskalyze technology assists financial planners in two critical tasks: (1) measuring the risk preferences of investors, and (2) applying these preference measurements to portfolio selection. Riskalyze summarizes an investor's mean-variance risk aversion on a 99-point scale. In connection with this output, the Riskalyze tool "quantifies" the client's indicated investment risk tolerance through the illustration of expected return (plus/minus) and investment volatility (investment variance) which uses past data to calculate expected variance.

Our Firm works with Riskalyze to customize client portfolios using a combination of existing holdings and recommended allocation strategies to provide the client with the desired risk score. Once the Risk Score is identified, our Firm prepares a strategy, which is also scored by Riskalyze tools. Generally, clients are recommended a mixture of strategies with various allocations, including strategies which focus on fixed income, growth, balanced, moderate, or aggressive investments, which correlate to the client's risk score. We seek to go beyond a traditional asset allocation strategy by incorporating investments on each end of the risk spectrum.

We take an active approach in managing our client's assets. Each account is rebalanced on either a quarterly, semi-annual, or annual basis. The frequency of rebalancing is based on the account's time horizon, investment objective current economic climate and tax situation.

While there may be some similarities in the portfolios created by Price Financial, we understand that every client has their own unique planning needs. We have the ability and flexibility to create portfolios to help our client achieve their goals. We may utilize the following forms of analysis:

Fundamental Analysis: We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell). Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis: We use this method of evaluating securities by analyzing statistics generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysts do not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value, but instead use charts and other tools to identify patterns that can suggest future activity. Technical analysts believe that the historical performance of stocks and markets are indications of future performance. Technical analysis is even more subjective than fundamental analysis in that it relies on proper interpretation of a given security's price and trading volume data. A decision might be made based on a historical move in a certain direction that was accompanied by heavy volume; however, that heavy volume may only be heavy relative to past volume for the security in question, but not compared to the future trading volume. Therefore, there is the risk of a trading decision being made incorrectly, since future trading volume is an unknown. Technical analysis is also done through observation of various market sentiment readings, many of which are quantitative. Market sentiment gauges the relative degree of bullishness and bearishness in a given security, and a contrarian investor utilizes such sentiment advantageously. When most traders are bullish, then there are very few traders left in a position to buy the security in question, so it becomes advantageous to sell it ahead of the crowd. When most traders are bearish, then there are very few traders left in a position to sell the security in question, so it becomes advantageous to buy it ahead of the crowd. The risk in utilization of such sentiment technical measures is that a very bullish reading can always become more bullish, resulting in lost opportunity if the money manager chooses to act upon the bullish signal by selling out of a position. The reverse is also true in that a bearish reading of sentiment can always become more bearish, which may result in a premature purchase of a security.

Asset Allocation: Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance. A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Mutual Fund and/or ETF Analysis: We look at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We also monitor the funds or ETFs in attempt to determine if they are continuing to follow their stated investment strategy. A risk of mutual fund and/or ETF analysis is that, as in all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the fund or ETF, which could make the holding(s) less suitable for the client's portfolio.

Model Manager Analysis: We examine the experience, expertise, investment philosophies, and past performance of Model Managers in attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We monitor the manager's underlying holdings, strategies, concentrations and leverage as part of our overall periodic risk assessment. Additionally, as part of our due-diligence process, we survey the Model Manager's compliance and business enterprise risks.

There is no guarantee that a particular strategy will meet its investment goals. The investment strategies we use will vary over time depending on various factors. Our Firm may give advice and take action for clients which differs from advice given or the timing or nature of action taken for other clients with different objectives. Our Firm is not obligated to initiate transactions for clients in any security which its principals, affiliates or employees may purchase or sell for their own accounts or for other clients.

Clients should be aware that ETFs and mutual funds have unique characteristics and their cost structures differ, sometimes significantly.

RISK OF LOSS

A client's investment portfolio is affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic conditions, changes in laws and national and international political circumstances.

Investing in securities involve certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk.

While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

Risks that apply to both fixed income and equity strategies include, but are not limited to, the following:

Active Management Risk: Due to its active management, a portfolio could underperform other portfolios with similar investment objectives and/or strategies.

Allocation Risk: A portfolio may use an asset allocation strategy in pursuit of its investment objective. There is a risk that a portfolio's allocation among asset classes or investments will cause a portfolio to lose value or cause it to underperform other portfolios with a similar investment objective and/or strategy, or that the investments themselves will not produce the returns expected.

Cybersecurity Risk. Cybersecurity risks include both intentional and unintentional events at Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. or one of its third-party counterparties or service providers, that may result in a loss or corruption of data, result in the unauthorized release or other misuse of confidential information, and generally compromise our Firm's ability to conduct its business. A cybersecurity breach may also result in a third-party obtaining unauthorized access to our clients' information, including social security numbers, home addresses, account numbers, account balances, and account holdings. Our Firm has established business continuity plans and risk management systems designed to reduce the risks associated with cybersecurity breaches. However, there are inherent limitations in these plans and systems, including that certain risks may not have been identified, in large part because different or unknown threats may emerge in the future. As such, there is no guarantee that such efforts will succeed, especially because our Firm does not directly control the cybersecurity systems of our third-party service providers. There is also a risk that cybersecurity breaches may not be detected.

Liquidity Risk: The risk that exists when a security's limited marketability prevents it from being bought or sold quickly enough to avoid or minimize a loss. This risk is particularly relevant in the bond market, although it can also be a risk when transacting in small cap securities and certain other stocks.

Market and Timing Risk: Prices of securities may become more volatile due to general market conditions that are not specifically related to a particular company, such as adverse economic conditions or outlooks, adverse investor sentiment, changes in the outlook for corporate earnings, or changes in interest rates.

Sector/Region Risk: The risk that the strategy's concentration in equities or bonds in a specific sector or industry will cause the strategy to be more exposed to the price movements in and developments affecting that sector.

Event Risk: The possibility that an unforeseen event will negatively affect a company or industry, and thus, increase the volatility of the security.

Risks associated with our fixed income strategies include, but are not limited to, the following:

Corporate Debt Risk: The rate of interest on a corporate debt security may be fixed, floating, variable, or may vary inversely with respect to a reference rate. Corporate debt securities are subject to the risk of the issuer's inability to meet principal and interest payments on the obligation. They also may be subject to price volatility due to interest rate sensitivity, market perception of the creditworthiness of the issuer and general market liquidity. When interest rates rise, the value of a corporate debt security can be expected to decline. Debt securities with longer maturities tend to be more sensitive to interest rate movements than those with shorter maturities. A company default can reduce income and capital value of a corporate debt security. Moreover, market expectations regarding economic conditions and the likely number of corporate defaults may impact the value of these securities.

Credit Default Risk: The risk of loss of principal due to the borrower's failure to repay the loan or risk of liquidity from the decline in the borrower's financial strength.

Duration Risk: The risk associated with the sensitivity of a bond's price to a change in interest rates. The higher a bond's (or portfolio's) duration, the greater its sensitivity to interest rate changes.

Government Securities Risk: Not all U.S. government securities are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government. It is possible that the U.S. government would not provide financial support to certain of its agencies or instrumentalities if it is not required to do so by law. If a U.S. government agency or instrumentality defaults and the U.S. government does not stand behind the obligation, returns could be negatively impacted. The U.S. government guarantees payment of principal and timely payment of interest on certain U.S. government securities.

Interest Rate Risk: Prices of fixed income securities tend to move inversely with changes in interest rates. As interest rates rise, bond prices typically fall and vice versa. The longer the effective maturity and duration of a strategy's portfolio, the more the performance of the investment is likely to react to interest rates.

Performance of Underlying Managers: We select the mutual funds and ETFs in the portfolios. However, we depend on the manager of such funds to select individual investments in accordance with their stated investment strategy.

Prepayment Risk: Similar to call risk, this risk is associated with the early unscheduled repayment of principal on a fixed income security. When principal is returned early, future interest payments will not be paid. The proceeds from the repayment may be reinvested in securities at a lower, prevailing rate.

Reinvestment Risk: The risk that future cash flows, either coupons or the final return of principal, will need to be reinvested in lower-yielding securities.

Securities Lending Risk: Securities lending involves the risk that the fund loses money because the borrower fails to return the securities in a timely manner or at all. The fund could also lose money if the value of the collateral provided for loaned securities, or the value of the investments made with the cash collateral, falls. These events could also trigger adverse tax consequences for the fund.

State Risk: Portfolios with state or region-specific customizations will be more sensitive to the events that affect that state's economy and stability. Portfolios with a higher concentration of bonds in a state or region may have higher credit risk exposure, especially if the percentage of assets dedicated to the state is invested in fewer issuers.

Tax Liability Risk: The risk that the distributions of municipal securities become taxable to the investor due to noncompliant conduct by the municipal bond issuer or changes to federal and state laws. These adverse actions would likely negatively impact the prices of the securities.

Valuation Risk: The lack of an active trading market and/or volatile market conditions can make it difficult to obtain an accurate price for a fixed income security. There are uncertainties associated with pricing a security without a reliable market quotation, and the resulting value may be very different than the value of what the security would have been if readily available market quotations had been available.

Risks associated with our equity strategies include, but are not limited to, the following:

Capitalization Risk: Small-cap and mid-cap companies may be hindered as a result of limited resources or less diverse products or services. Their stocks have historically been more volatile than the stocks of larger, more established companies.

Exchange-Traded Fund ("ETF") and Mutual Fund Risk: Investments in ETFs and mutual funds have unique characteristics, including, but not limited to, the ETF or mutual fund's expense structure. Investors of ETFs and mutual funds held within Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. client accounts bear both their Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. portfolio's advisory expenses and, indirectly, the ETF's or mutual fund's expenses. Because the expenses and costs of an underlying ETF or mutual fund are shared by its investors, redemptions by other investors in the ETF or mutual fund could result in decreased economies of scale and increased operating expenses for such ETF or mutual fund. Additionally, the ETF or mutual fund may not achieve its investment objective. Actively managed ETFs or mutual funds may experience significant drift from their stated benchmark.

Frequent Trading Risk: A portfolio manager may actively and frequently trade investments in a portfolio to carry out its investment strategies. Frequent trading of investments increases the possibility that a portfolio, as relevant, will realize taxable capital gains (including short-term capital gains, which are generally taxable at higher rates than long-term capital gains for U.S. federal income tax purposes), which could reduce a portfolio's after-tax return. Frequent trading can also mean higher brokerage and other transaction costs, which could reduce a portfolio's return. The trading costs and tax effects associated with portfolio turnover can adversely affect its performance.

Structured Notes: Structured products are designed to facilitate highly customized risk-return objectives. While structured products come in many different forms, they typically consist of a debt security that is structured to make interest and principal payments based upon various assets, rates, or formulas. Many structured products include an embedded derivative component. Structured products may be structured in the form of a security, in which case these products may receive benefits provided under federal securities law, or they may be cast as derivatives, in which case they are offered in the over-the-counter market and are subject to no regulation. Investment in structured products includes significant risks, including valuation, liquidity, price, credit, and market risks. One common risk associated with structured products is a relative lack of liquidity due to the highly customized nature of the investment. Moreover, the full extent of returns from the complex performance features is often not realized until maturity. As such, structured products tend to be more of a buy-and-hold investment decision rather than a means of getting in and out of a position with speed and efficiency. Another risk with structured products is the credit quality of the issuer. Although the cash flows are derived from other sources, the products themselves are legally considered to be the issuing financial institution's liabilities. The vast majority of structured products are from high-investment-grade issuers only. Also, there is a lack of pricing transparency. There is no uniform standard for pricing, making it harder to compare the net-of-pricing attractiveness of alternative structured product offerings than it is, for instance, to compare the net expense ratios of different mutual funds or commissions among broker-dealers.

Issuer Risk: The risk that an issuer of a security may perform poorly, and therefore, the value of its securities may decline. Poor performance may be caused by poor management decisions, competitive pressures, breakthroughs in technology, reliance on suppliers, labor problems or shortages, corporate restructurings, fraudulent disclosures, natural disasters or other events, conditions or factors.

Market Risk: When the stock market strongly favors a particular style of equity investing, some or all of Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. 's equity strategies could underperform. The performance of clients' accounts could suffer when Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. 's particular investment strategies are out of favor. For example, Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. 's large cap equity strategies could underperform when the market favors smaller capitalization stocks. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. 's strategies with exposure to small/mid cap stocks could underperform when the market favors larger cap stocks. Additionally, growth securities could underperform when the market favors value securities.

Sector Risk: At times, a portfolio may have a significant portion of its assets invested in securities of companies conducting business in a related group of industries within an economic sector. Companies in the same economic sector may be similarly affected by economic, regulatory, political or market events or conditions, which make a portfolio more vulnerable to unfavorable developments in that economic sector than portfolios that invest more broadly. Generally, the more a portfolio diversifies its investments, the more it spreads risk and potentially reduces the risks of loss and volatility.

Alternative Investments: Our Firm's use of alternative assets is limited to the investments approved on our recommended Custodian(s) Alternative Investments platform in addition to publicly traded ETFs or '40 Act' funds with specific exposure in commodities, long/short strategies, real estate, and covered call writing. Investments classified as "alternative investments" may include a broad range of underlying assets including, but not limited to, hedge funds, private equity, venture capital, and registered, publicly traded securities. Alternative investments are speculative, not suitable for all clients and intended for only experienced and sophisticated investors who are willing to bear the high risk of the investment, which can include: loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging, short-selling, or other speculative investment practices; lack of liquidity in that there may be no secondary market for the fund and none expected to develop; volatility of returns; potential for restrictions on transferring interest in the fund; potential lack of diversification and resulting higher risk due to concentration of trading authority with a single advisor; absence of information regarding valuations and pricing; potential for delays in tax reporting; less regulation and typically higher fees than other investment options such as mutual funds. The SEC requires investors be accredited to invest in these more speculative alternative investments. Investing in a fund that concentrates its investments in a few holdings may involve heightened risk and result in greater price volatility.

Digital Currency: Our Firm's use of digital currency in a model portfolio is limited only to publicly traded securities that passively or actively invest in digital currency assets. The shares of certain Products are also publicly quoted on OTC Markets and shares that have become unrestricted in accordance with the rules and regulations of the SEC may be bought and sold throughout the day through any brokerage account. Investments in the Products are speculative investments that involve high degrees of risk, including a partial or total loss of invested funds. The shares of each Product are intended to reflect the price of the digital asset(s) held by such Product (based on digital asset(s) per share), less such Product's expenses and other liabilities. Because each Product does not currently operate a redemption program, there can be no assurance that the value of such Product's shares will reflect the value of the assets held by such Product, less such Product's expenses and other liabilities, and the shares of such Product, if traded on any secondary market, may trade at a substantial premium over, or a substantial discount to, the value of the assets held by such Product, less such Product's expenses and other liabilities, and such Product may be unable to meet its investment objective.

VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

We will not vote proxies on your behalf. You are welcome to vote proxies or designate an independent third-party at your own discretion. You designate proxy voting authority in the custodial account documents. You must ensure that proxy materials are sent directly to you or your assigned third party. We do not take action with respect to any securities or other investments that become the subject of any legal proceedings, including bankruptcies. You can contact our office with questions about a particular solicitation by phone at 503-253-3000.

ITEM 7 -CLIENT INFORMATION PROVIDED TO PORTFOLIO MANAGER(S)

Our Firm is required to describe the type and frequency of the information it communicates to external managers that may be involved in managing its Clients' investment portfolios. Price Financial serves as the sole portfolio manager under this Wrap Fee Program and, as such, we have no information to disclose regarding this Item.

ITEM 8- CLIENT CONTACT WITH PORTFOLIO MANAGER(S)

Our Firm does not place restrictions on the client's ability to contact and consult their financial advisor. As the portfolio manager, clients are free to contact us at any time.

ITEM 9- ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

We do not have any legal, financial or other "disciplinary" item to report.

FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES & AFFILIATIONS

Insurance

Some of our Investment Adviser Representatives ("IARs") of the Firm are licensed Insurance agents registered with various State(s) Insurance Departments. IARs receives compensation (commissions, trails, or other compensation from the respective insurance products) as a result effecting insurance transactions for mutual client(s) of Price Financial. Commissions generated by insurance sales do not offset regular advisory fees. Our firm has an incentive to recommend insurance products and this incentive creates a conflict of interest between your interests and our Firm. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing to clients they have the right to decide whether to engage the Insurance services offered through our IARs. Further, clients should note they have the right to decide whether to act on the recommendations and the right to choose any professional to execute the advice for any insurance products through any licensed insurance agent not affiliated with our Firm. We recognize the fiduciary responsibility to place the client's interests first and have established policies in this regard to avoid any conflicts of interest.

Third Party Advisory Services

Our Firm has entered into agreements with various third-party advisers. Under these agreements, our Firm offers clients various types of programs sponsored by these advisers. All third-party investment advisers to whom Price Financial will refer clients will be licensed as investment advisers by their resident state and any applicable jurisdictions or registered investment advisers with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

CPA Tax Services

Managing members of Price Financial Group Wealth Management have common ownership with the CPA firm, Price Financial Group Accounting & Tax, LLC, doing business as, R Hug CPAs & Associates. This CPA firm offers tax services to individuals and corporations. IARs of Price Financial are not licensed tax professionals and do not provide tax advice. Tax services are separate from investment advisory services and are additional costs to the client. Commissions earned by the CPA firm do not offset regular advisory fees. IARs of Price Financial have incentives to recommend CPA services because the managing members may receive a portion of the CPA firm's profits. This creates a conflict of interest with advisory clients. Clients should note they have the right to decide whether to act on the recommendations of the IAR and tax professional. We recognize the fiduciary responsibility to place the client's interests first and act as a fiduciary in carrying out services provided to you.

Other Financial Affiliations

The following is a list of other affiliated companies under common ownership with Price Financial. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. is wholly owned by Price Financial Group. Price Financial Group is owned, in equal measures, by the following affiliated individuals: Matthew Mai, and Mateusz Sudol. Price Financial Group is used for bookkeeping and marketing purposes for advisory services and insurance income. In addition, Price Financial Group offers radio programming. Their radio program offers financial industry information and is used as an advertising vehicle for the firm's advisory services. Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. pays for radio airtime. All advertising that is affiliated with the firm will be reviewed and approved by the Chief Compliance Officer and retained as books and records for the firm.

Clients should be aware that the ability to receive additional compensation by our Firm and its management persons or employees creates conflicts of interest that impair the objectivity of the Firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Our Firm endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser; we take the following steps, among others to address this conflict:

- we disclose to clients the existence of all material conflicts of interest, including the potential for the Firm and our employees to earn compensation from advisory clients in addition to the Firm's advisory fees.
- we disclose to clients that they have the right to decide whether to purchase recommended investment products from our employees.
- we collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant client background information, including the client's financial goals, objectives, and liquidity needs.
- the Firm conducts regular reviews of each client advisory account to verify that all recommendations made to a client are in the best interest of the client's needs and circumstances.
- we require that our employees seek prior approval of any outside employment activity so that we may ensure that any conflicts of interests in such activities are properly addressed.

- we periodically monitor these outside employment activities to verify that any conflicts of interest continue to be properly addressed by the Firm; and
- we educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need for having a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to clients.

Annuity Recommendations

Most Price Financial investment advisor representatives (IARs) also provide insurance or annuities to their clients when appropriate. Insurance, including fixed index annuities, are not offered through Price Financial but are sold by insurance licensed agents using various insurance companies. The issuing insurance companies are not affiliated with Price Financial. However, sometimes the fixed insurance product could be used as a replacement or alternative to the Price Financial fixed income portion of a portfolio. However, annuity products present their own differences from traditional fixed income securities, such as bonds, including, but not limited to liquidity, tax implications, and underlying fees. Unlike bonds, there is no secondary market for annuity products. Annuities also may be subject to caps, restrictions, fees and surrender charges as described in the annuity contract. Any annuity guarantees are backed by the financial strength and claims paying ability of issuer. Price Financial does not charge management fees on commission based fixed index annuities. However, if the IAR/insurance agent implements an insurance transaction, the agent will receive a sales commission from the recommendation of an insurance product, like a fixed index annuity. This creates a conflict of interest since the IAR/insurance agent is incentivized and earns insurance commission(s) for implementing insurance product recommendations. This conflict is mitigated by the IAR/insurance agent always acting in the best interest of the client and providing full and frank disclosure to the client when such a conflict exists. If a Price Financial IAR is licensed as an insurance agent and makes a recommendation for transacting in a fixed annuity and/or life insurance product, this gives rise to conflicts of interest due to the fact that such Price Financial IAR is receiving remuneration in the form of commission and in some cases, other compensation (such as a percentage of an organizations' profits for selling fixed annuities and/or life insurance) which incentivizes such IAR to sell that product. Price Financial IARs mitigate this conflict by making recommendations that are in the client's best interest and are suitable for them based on their investment objectives and needs outlined in the client's investment policy statement.

CODE OF ETHICS

Our Firm and persons associated with us are allowed to invest for their own accounts, or to have a financial investment in the same securities or other investments that we recommend or acquire for your account, and may engage in transactions that are the same as or different than transactions recommended to or made for your account. This creates a conflict of interest. We recognize the fiduciary responsibility to act in your best interest and have established policies to mitigate conflicts of interest.

We have developed and implemented a Code of Ethics that sets forth standards of conduct expected of our advisory personnel to mitigate this conflict of interest. The Code of Ethics addresses, among other things, personal trading, gifts, and the prohibition against the use of inside information.

The Code of Ethics is designed to protect our clients to detect and deter misconduct, educate personnel regarding the Firm's expectations and laws governing their conduct, remind personnel that they are in a position of trust and must act with complete propriety at all times, protect the reputation of Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. , safeguard against the violation of the securities laws, and establish procedures for personnel to follow so that we may determine whether their personnel are complying with the Firm’s ethical principles.

We have established the following restrictions in order to ensure our Firm’s fiduciary responsibilities:

- A director, officer, or employee of Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. shall not buy or sell any securities for their personal portfolio(s) where their decision is substantially derived, in whole or in part, by reason of his or her employment unless the information is also available to the investing public on reasonable inquiry No supervised employee of Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. shall prefer his or her own interest to that of the advisory client. Trades for supervised employees are traded alongside client accounts
- We maintain a list of all securities holdings of anyone associated with this advisory practice with access to advisory recommendations. These holdings are reviewed on a regular basis by an appropriate officer/individual of Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc.
- We emphasize the unrestricted right of the client to decline implementation of any advice rendered, except in situations where we are granted discretionary authority of the client’s account
- We require that all supervised employees must act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices
- Any supervised employee not in observance of the above may be subject to termination
- None of our associated persons may affect for himself/herself or for accounts in which he/she holds a beneficial interest, any transactions in a security which is being actively recommended to any of our clients, unless in accordance with the Firm’s procedures.

You may request a complete copy of our Code by contacting us at the address, telephone, or email on the cover page of this Part 2; ATTN: Robert Caldwell, Chief Compliance Officer.

Our firm nor any of its management persons are registered or have an application pending to register as a broker-dealer or a registered representative of a broker-dealer.

BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Clients must maintain assets in an account at a “qualified custodian,” generally a broker-dealer or bank. We recommend that our clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. or Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services (“Schwab” “Fidelity”, collectively “the Custodians”), which are Members FINRA/SIPC, registered broker-dealers, and qualified custodians. We are independently owned and operated, and unaffiliated with Schwab and Fidelity. The Custodians will hold client assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when we instruct them to.

While we recommend that clients use our recommended Custodians, clients must decide whether to do so and open accounts with the Custodians by entering into account agreements directly with Schwab and Fidelity. The accounts will always be held in the name of the client and never in our firm’s name. Even though clients maintain accounts at Schwab and Fidelity, we can still use other brokers to execute trades for client accounts (see Client Brokerage and Custody Costs, below).

HOW WE SELECT BROKERS/CUSTODIANS

We seek to recommend a custodian/broker who will hold client assets and execute transactions on terms that are, overall, most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including:

1. Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
2. Capability to buy and sell securities for client accounts
3. Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
4. Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, etc.)
5. Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
6. Quality of services
7. Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate the prices
8. Reputation, financial strength, and stability
9. Prior service to our Firm and our other clients
10. Availability of other products and services that benefit us, as discussed below (see Products and Services Available to Us from Schwab)

CLIENT BROKERAGE AND CUSTODY COSTS

For client accounts that the Custodians maintains, the Custodians generally does not charge separately for custody services. However, the Custodians receive compensation by charging ticket charges or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into clients' Custodian accounts. In addition to commissions, the Custodians charge a flat dollar amount as a "prime broker" or "trade away" fee for each trade that we have executed by a different custodian but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into a client's Custodian account. These fees are in addition to the ticket charges or other compensation the client pays the executing custodian. To minimize these trading costs, we have the Custodians execute most trades for client accounts. We have determined that having Custodians execute most trades is consistent with our duty to seek "best execution" of client trades. Best execution means the most favorable terms for a transaction based on all relevant factors, including those listed above (see How We Select Brokers/Custodians).

PRODUCTS AND SERVICES AVAILABLE TO US FROM CUSTODIAN

The Custodians will provide our Firm and our clients with access to institutional brokerage, trading, custody, reporting, and related services. The custodians also makes available various support services which help us manage or administer our clients' accounts and help us manage and grow our business. Schwab and Fidelity's support services generally are available on an unsolicited basis (we do not have to request them) and at no charge to us. These are considered soft dollar benefits because there is an incentive to do business with Schwab and Fidelity. This creates a conflict of interest. We recognize the fiduciary responsibility to place clients' interests first and have established policies in this regard to mitigate any conflicts of interest. Following is a more detailed description of Schwab and Fidelity's support services:

SERVICES THAT BENEFIT OUR CLIENTS

Schwab and Fidelity's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab and Fidelity include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab and Fidelity's services described in this paragraph generally benefit our clients and their accounts.

SERVICES THAT MAY NOT DIRECTLY BENEFIT OUR CLIENTS

The Custodians also make available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit our clients or their accounts. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab and Fidelity's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab or Fidelity. In addition to investment research, the Custodians also makes available software and other technology that:

1. Provides access to client account data (positions, trades, statements, cost basis, etc).
2. Facilitates trade execution and allocates aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts.
3. Provides pricing and other market data.
4. Facilitates payment of our fees from our clients' accounts.
5. Assists with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting.

SERVICES THAT GENERALLY BENEFIT ONLY US

The custodians also offer other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

1. Educational conferences and events
2. Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
3. Publications or conferences on practice management & business succession
4. Access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers

The custodians may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. The Custodians may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or part of a third party's fees. The Custodians may also provide us with other benefits, such as occasional business entertainment for our personnel. The Custodians provide these additional services and support to Advisor in its sole discretion and at its own expense, and Advisor does not pay any fees to the Custodians for this. As part of our fiduciary duties to clients, we always endeavor to put the interests of our clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by our Firm or our related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence our choice of the Custodians for custody and brokerage services. The Custodians may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to us.

OUR INTEREST IN SCHWAB'S SERVICES

The availability of these services from Custodians benefit us because we do not have to produce or purchase them. These services are not contingent upon us committing any specific amount of business to Schwab or Fidelity. We believe that our selection of the Custodians as custodians and brokers are in the best interest of our clients.

Some of the products, services and other benefits provided by the Custodians benefit our Firm and may not benefit our client accounts. Our recommendation or requirement that clients place assets in Schwab or Fidelity's custody may be based in part on benefits Custodians provides to us, or our agreement to maintain certain Assets Under Management at Schwab or Fidelity, and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and execution services provided by Schwab or Fidelity.

BROKERAGE FOR CLIENT REFERRALS

Our Firm does not receive client referrals from any custodian or third party in exchange for using that custodian or third party.

AGGREGATION AND ALLOCATION OF TRANSACTIONS

Transactions for each client will be effected independently unless we decide to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. We may, but are not obligated to, combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for advisory accounts we manage (this practice is commonly referred to as "aggregated trading"). We will then distribute a portion of the shares to participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner. If you participate in our wrap fee program described above, you will not pay any portion of the transaction costs in addition to the program fee. In the event an order is only partially filled, the shares will be allocated to participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner, typically in proportion to the size of each client's order. Accounts owned by our firm or persons associated with our firm may participate in aggregated trading with your accounts; however, they will not be given preferential treatment. We combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for discretionary accounts.

TRADE ERRORS

We have implemented procedures designed to prevent trade errors; however, trade errors in client accounts cannot always be avoided. Consistent with our fiduciary duty, it is our policy to correct trade errors in a manner that is in the best interest of the client. In cases where the client causes a trade error, the client will be responsible for any loss resulting from the correction. Depending on the specific circumstances of the trade error, the client may not be able to receive any gains generated as a result of the error correction. In all situations where the client does not cause the trade error, the client will be made whole, and we will absorb any loss resulting from the trade error if the error was caused by the firm. If the error is caused by the custodian, the custodians will be responsible for covering all trade error costs. We will never benefit or profit from trade errors.

DIRECTED BROKERAGE

Price Financial does not routinely require that clients direct us to execute transactions through a specified broker dealer. Additionally, we typically do not permit clients to direct brokerage. We place trades for your account subject to our duty to seek best execution and other fiduciary duties.

ITEM 13 - REVIEW OF ACCOUNTSAccount Reviews and Reviewers – Investment Supervisory Services

Our Investment Adviser Representatives will monitor client accounts on a regular basis and perform annual reviews with each client. All accounts are reviewed for consistency with client investment strategy, asset allocation, risk tolerance, and performance relative to the appropriate benchmark. More frequent reviews may be triggered by changes in an account holder's personal, tax, or financial status. Geopolitical and macroeconomic specific events may also trigger reviews.

Statements and Reports

The custodian for the individual client's account will provide clients with an account statement at least quarterly. Upon request, clients can receive a prepared written report detailing their current positions, asset allocation, and year-to-date performance provided by our Firm.

You are urged to compare the reports provided by Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. against the account statements you receive directly from your account custodian.

Selection and Monitoring of Third Party Managed Accounts – If you have an account with us that is managed by a third party manager, we typically review your account holdings weekly to insure that your account remains within reasonable variances of the asset allocation targets and investment models in place.

ITEM 14 – CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

We receive an economic benefit from our Custodians in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described above under Item 12 Brokerage Practices. The availability to us of Custodian's products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.

Our Firm may be asked to recommend a financial professional, such as an attorney, or mortgage broker. In such cases, our Firm does not receive any direct compensation in return for any referrals made to individuals or firms in our professional network. Clients must independently evaluate these firms or individuals before engaging in business with them and clients have the right to choose any financial professional to conduct business. Individuals and firms in our financial professional network may refer clients to our Firm. Again, our Firm does not pay any direct compensation in return for any referrals made to our Firm. Our Firm does recognize the fiduciary responsibility to place your interests first and have established policies in this regard to mitigate any conflicts of interest.

ITEM 15 – CUSTODY

Custody, as it applies to investment advisers, has been defined by regulators as having access or control over client funds and/or securities. In other words, custody is not limited to physically holding client funds and securities. If an investment adviser has the ability to access or control client funds or securities, the investment adviser is deemed to have custody and must ensure proper procedures are implemented.

Deduction of Advisory Fees

For all accounts, our Firm has the authority to have fees deducted directly from client accounts. Our Firm has established procedures to ensure all client funds and securities are held at a qualified custodian in a separate account for each client under that client's name. Clients, or an independent representative of the client, will direct, in writing, the establishment of all accounts and therefore are aware of the qualified custodian's name, address, and the way the funds or securities are maintained. Finally, account statements are delivered directly from the qualified custodian to each client, or the client's independent representative, at least quarterly. You should carefully review those statements and are urged to compare the statements against reports received from Price Financial. When you have questions about your account statements, you should contact Price Financial Group Wealth Management, Inc. or the qualified custodian preparing the statement.

Please refer to Item 4 for more information about the deduction of adviser fees.

We do not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Finally, we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.

SOFT DOLLARS

Our Firm does not accept any direct soft dollars.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

We do not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Finally, we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.
